

LIFE STORY OF ALICIA DILLIHAY-SUBER On Sunday, June 8, 2025, God in His Infinite Wisdom called Alicia Carol Dillihay–Suber home to rest.

Alicia was the eldest child of Jeffrey and the late Alberta Dillihay; born in Trenton, NJ on July 26, 1975. Alicia was diagnosed with Sickle Cell Anemia at the age of 2, which affected her health throughout her life. Despite this diagnosis, Alicia lived her life without allowing it to define her.

Alicia graduated from The Agnes Irwin School in 1993 and earned a BA in English Literature from Rosemont College in 1997. She aspired to be a doctor but became an editor at the American College of Physicians and Lippincott, later leaving to be a full-time mother.

In 1996, while attending Rosemont College, Alicia joined Delta Sigma Theta Sorority Incorporated. She maintained a relationship with her Sorors and stayed connected with her line sisters until her passing.

Alicia accepted Christ at age 5 at Mt. Sinai Baptist Church in Lansdowne, PA. Her family joined Christian Stronghold Church in 1990. She served in various ministries, including The Christian Sounds Choir, Women's Praise Team, VBS, The Christian Stronghold Choir, and as a CBI instructor. Alicia faithfully sang praises to the Lord, even when in pain.

While living as a single mother to Alexis, Alicia married Mets Suber on October 18, 2003, and they had three children together: Josiah, Anais, and James. She valued her family and spent time with them at the beach, bowling on vacations, and engaging in other activities.

Alicia was exceptionally talented—she braided hair, crocheted, tutored in Spanish and English, and designed apparel. She was always willing to help others and loved singing praises to her Lord and Savior.

Precious memories of Alicia will be cherished by her husband Mets Suber; four adult children, Alexis Dillihay, Josiah, Anais, and James Suber; sister, Alison (Rasheed) James; brother, Jeffrey (Justine) Dillihay Jr.; Aunt, Dr. Roberta Jackson; Father Jeffrey Dillihay Sr.; Mother-in-law, Veronica Suber; nieces Alyssa and Aliyah; her besties, Cynthia Hayward and Therese Bandy; her Delta Sigma Theta sorority sisters, the Irwin Agnes School class of 1993, her Stronghold family and a host of extended family and friends.
