Silver Foliage Unique Blooms

Zone 2 - 6

The powdery silver foliage and small profile of this shrub make it a great addition to any landscape. With a nice rounded form, Iceberg Alley® will not overtake the landscape, but instead add seasons of interest. It blooms in spring with silver catkins, and it has red stamens and nectar for pollinators. Iceberg Alley® is very tolerant of moist soils and is a good choice for rain gardens. Consider cutting the stems in early spring for the decorative catkins.
