

Double Bridal Wreath Spirea

(Spiraea cantoniensis 'Lanceata')

Shrub

4' - 6' High

4' - 6' Spread

4 + Hours

Double Flowers
Arching Branches

Zone 5 - 9

Double Bridal Wreath Spirea is a graceful, deciduous shrub valued for its elegant form and abundant spring bloom. In early to mid-spring, arching branches are covered with clusters of small, pure white flowers, creating a soft, cascading effect that brightens the landscape. Slender, lance-shaped green leaves give this spirea a light, airy texture through the growing season before turning yellow to bronze in fall.