

Renaissance Bridal Wreath Spirea

(Spiraea x vanhouttei 'Renaissance')

Shrub

5' - 8' High

7' - 10' Spread

4 + Hours

White Flowers
Arching Branches

Zone 3 - 8

Renaissance Bridal Wreath Spirea is a graceful, deciduous shrub prized for its abundant spring display of pure white flowers. In mid to late spring, arching branches are smothered in double, rose-like blooms that create a classic bridal wreath effect. The finely textured, blue-green foliage emerges fresh in spring, remains attractive through summer, and turns soft yellow in fall.

