Traveling Checklist: Ready to go on vacation and enjoy some new experiences. For those of you who are, enjoy this pre-vacay checklist to ensure you get the most out of your travels:

- Complete your fillings before traveling on a plane Some of you may have already learned this the hard way, but when you fly in an airplane with untreated cavities, you may experience discomfort or even pain. This is because cavities in your teeth leave you vulnerable to air entrapment – which can begin to cause you pain as the air pressure quickly changes. As someone who’s experienced this myself, I recommend you complete your treatment prior to flying (going forward, I sure will... OUCH!).
- Make sure your 6-month cleaning is scheduled for when you return If you’re anything like me, one of your favorite parts about going on vacation is all of the new and delicious treats you get to try. And while you definitely deserve the happiness that food can bring, you don’t deserve the decay that can sometimes follow. By scheduling your next cleaning before you leave, you’ve already done your part in ensuring your teeth will be cared for once you return. Haven’t been to the dentist in the past 6 months? – come see us before you leave for vacation to ensure you don’t get any unwanted toothaches when flying or eating!
- Ensure your travel kit contains a toothbrush, toothpaste, and floss.

Benefits of flossing:

- Helps remove food particles and plaque between teeth and along the gum line where your toothbrush can't quite reach
- Better removal of bad breath-causing bacteria than brushing alone
- Removal of plaque from below the gum line, which can erode tooth enamel and develop into tartar (can cause teeth discoloration)
- Reduce the risk of cavities
