WHAT IS THIS, EXACTLY?

It's exactly what it sounds like — you, a blazing hot furnace, and a professional glass artist who's going to walk you through blowing, shaping, and finishing your very own handcrafted piece of glass. No prior experience. No artistic ability required. Just you, some molten glass, and a story you'll tell for the rest of your life.

This isn't a factory tour or a watch-from-behind-the-rope situation. You're in the hot shop. You're gathering the glass. You're making the thing. Our artist is right there with you every step of the way — so you can be bold, get creative, and actually enjoy it. The heat is real. The glass is real. And the piece you walk away with? 100% made by you.

HERE'S HOW IT GOES

01 Pick Your Project

Choose a drinking glass, a paperweight, a starfish, or a limited seasonal item. Each one is designed to be totally doable for a first-timer — and totally impressive when it's done.

02 Choose Your Colors

This is your piece — pick colors that speak to you. Your artist will help you see how they'll look in the finished glass. Spoiler: everything looks stunning.

03 Gather, Shape & Blow

Here's where it gets real. With your artist's hands-on guidance, you'll gather molten glass right from the furnace, learn the tools, and shape your piece at around 2,100°F. It's mesmerizing. It's tactile. It's unforgettable.

04 Anneal & Take It Home

Every finished piece goes into our annealing oven overnight to cool slowly and safely. Pick it up the next day or let us ship it straight to your door. Either way — you made that.

CHOOSE YOUR PROJECT

Three ways to play. Pick the one that calls to you — or let your artist help you decide when you arrive. Every option gives you the full glassblowing experience; it's just a question of what you take home.

Our seasonal projects are special — limited-time, limited-availability pieces that change throughout the year. Think holiday ornaments, pumpkins, seasonal sculptures, and one-of-a-kind designs you won't find anywhere else.
