Business Spotlight

A 360-Degree Approach to Quality Roofing

When Brian Olagues founded Rooftop Solutions in early 2024, he brought with him nearly two decades of hands-on roofing expertise, a deep understanding of storm-related claims, and a commitment to craftsmanship that sets his company apart. But more than that, he brought a desire to return to the kind of personal, detail-oriented service that only a small, owner-driven business can offer.

Brian's entrepreneurial journey began long before Rooftop Solutions. In 2016, he launched Rocket Restorations, and for six years, the company ran at high-volume production—a pace that taught Brian valuable lessons but left him longing to get closer to the work itself. "I wanted to get back to a smaller company," he explains. Selling his ownership stake allowed him to reset, refocus, and build something new with a more hands-on philosophy. That vision became Rooftop Solutions.

Based on the Northshore and serving communities like Beau Chêne, Rooftop Solutions specializes in residential roofing, along with siding, painting, and gutter services. But the company's true differentiator lies in Brian's extensive industry background. His roofing career began in the aftermath of Hurricane Katrina, knocking on doors to help homeowners navigate insurance claims after storm damage. This was an experience that built both technical knowledge and empathy during our region's most challenging years.

From there, Brian spent years traveling the country as a subcontractor for a national roofing company before shifting to the supply side. He worked for major shingle distributors, including what is now QXO and later joined Atlas Roofing Corporation as a sales representative covering the entire state of Louisiana. The breadth and depth of that experience—contracting, distribution, and manufacturing—gives him a rare 360-degree understanding of the roofing industry.

At Rooftop Solutions, that expertise translates into meticulous quality control. The company hand-nails every shingle, a craft-focused method increasingly rare in today's industry. Brian is on-site for every installation, ensuring his standards are upheld. He has been FORTIFIED certified since 2020, offering homeowners enhanced protection against hurricanes and severe weather.

Brian also emphasizes the importance of homeowner education. "Get to know who you're hiring," he advises. "Make sure a permit is pulled before work begins. Not all shingles are the same, and all vents should be replaced during a roof installation." His approach centers on transparency, communication, and doing the job right the first time.

A proud graduate of Jesuit High School and Loyola University, Brian brings deep local roots and a genuine commitment to serving his community. Through Rooftop Solutions, Beau Chêne residents have a trusted, knowledgeable roofer ready to protect the homes and families that make the neighborhood special.
