PROFESSIONAL BACKGROUND

Richard Conie

Richard is a dedicated and results-driven commercial real estate advisor with a strong passion for helping clients navigate the market. Despite being early in his brokerage career, he has already built a reputation for delivering successful outcomes, having completed some of the largest leasing transactions within the Columbus market during his first year. Representing reputable companies and property owners, Richard provides expert guidance in leasing, sales, and site selection. Whether assisting owners in marketing their properties or helping tenants and buyers find the right space, he is committed to finding solutions that align with his clients' goals.

An attendee of Miami University of Ohio, where he majored in Urban Planning and Development, Richard has always been fascinated by the dynamics of urban landscapes. His education gave him a strong foundation in zoning regulations, land use, and the economic factors that shape real estate markets, allowing him to take a strategic approach to every transaction.

Over the years, Richard has developed his negotiation skills through hands-on experience, successfully starting and running multiple businesses focused on deal-making. These ventures have sharpened his business acumen and given him valuable insight into securing the best possible terms for his clients.

While still early in his commercial real estate career, Richard's dedication, work ethic, and commitment to client success set him apart. He takes pride in going above and beyond, bringing fresh ideas and strategic solutions to every deal to help clients maximize their investments and achieve their long-term objectives.
