STRATEGIES FOR TAXSMART GIVING

Qualified Charitable Distributions (QCDs) from IRAs: The distribution goes directly to charity from your IRA and counts toward RMDs. The QCD is not taxed as income as an RMD would be. Must be 70½ or older to be eligible.

Best if: you don't need all your RMD income and would like to make donations tax-efficiently.

Donate Appreciated Stock, ETFs, or Mutual Funds in-kind: Get a fair-market-value -deduction, and avoid capital gains tax on the appreciation. This can save 20-30%+ in taxes compared to donating cash.

Best if: you have long-term investments with large capital gains.

Give Through a DonorAdvised Fund (DAF): Get an immediate tax deduction but remain in control of your gifting over your lifetime. Ability to distribute gifts to charities over time. Good for "bunching" deductions in high-income years.

Best if: your charitable giving varies year-to-year or you want simplicity.
