Laughter, Legends, and Lighthearted Mayhem

Shaker Farms gathered to honor Don Skelly—the club's beloved jokester and chaos conductor—and true to form, the day was anything but ordinary. The tournament erupted into a riot of chickenslingers and rogue rolls, with hazards so hilarious people had to take cover. Laughter echoed across the fairway room as members swapped stories, boasted about their bragging rights, and tried to outdo each other's tales of near-misses and poultry-related zings. It was classic Skelly: a celebration where the scorecards mattered less than the smiles, and camaraderie soared higher than any airborne dinner roll. The Fairway Room capped it all off with warmth and wit—less about the food, more about the fellowship, as Don's legacy of laughter lit up every table.
