Alicia Beekman

Alicia Beekman is part of a team of agents that works with all ages in on-camera theatrical and voiceover agent at DDO Artists Agency/DDO. DDO Artists Agency made its mark in the Entertainment business in 1969 when founder, Dorothy Day Otis, created an agency to focus on representing talent of Hollywood. Today, our offices in Los Angeles, New York City, Chicago, and Atlanta provide performers representation across the country for Commercial, TV, Film, Voice-Over, Print, and Theater.

DDO Agency works in getting talent into TV, Film and VO. Current clients include regulars and leads on Wizards Beyond Waverly Place, Vampirina: Teenage Vampire, M3gan and M3gan 2.0, Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles, Stranger Things, Lioness, Goosebumps, and many more.

She is especially passionate about working with actors from underrepresented communities and helping to ensure that the world we see and hear on our televisions reflects the world around us, and about supporting the mental health of young actors in Hollywood.
