Jaffa Odum

Jaffa Models International (JMI) is a boutique modeling agency that represents unique male and female models. With a national and international list of clientele, JMI books models for various services, including fashion, runway, print, commercial, editorial, and advertising. Quality is a top priority for JMI, which is why the agency is highly selective in choosing the models who represent their company.

JMI was founded in August 2003 by Jaffa R. Odum, a veteran in the modeling and fashion industry with over twenty years of experience. The agency's success is due to its founder's proven track record of developing and training models and establishing professional business relationships with other national and international modeling agencies.

JMI has had many successes, including providing models for Abercrombie and Fitch, Dolce and Gabbana, Calvin Klein, Zon Sports, Maybelline, Donna Moderna Magazine, VYNE Magazine, Zegna, Lacoste, and Spray Ground. Top agencies worldwide book JMI models in cities such as New York, Los Angeles, Miami, Milano, and Hong Kong.

Modeling requires more than a "look." JMI and its models have a partnership, and models must possess qualities such as discipline, commitment, determination, confidence, dedication, and personality to achieve success.

Professionalism is at the core of JMI's business for both models and clients. Trust is key between models and staff, and JMI strives to cultivate a family atmosphere between the models and staff. The agency is committed to providing all models and clients with outstanding service.
