CUSTOMER SERVICE

At most stores "Customer Service" is a hard-to-find office some place in a very inconvenient location and the person you need to see seems to be always "out of the office today."

At Cox's customer service is where the customer NEEDS service. It is at the counter where you may purchase seeds by the scoop; it is in the greenhouse where you receive information about annual flowers (need to be planted each year), perennial flowers (come up each year), vegetables, herbs, or houseplants and even get answers to questions about plants you already own. If we cannot provide what you need or cannot answer your questions, we don't mind spending time trying to find information for you.

In the shrub area you will find people who are glad to help you select shrubs and trees suitable for your home. Whether you need low-growing evergreens, flowering shrubs or trees, fruit trees, berries, grapes or shade trees you will find our employees eager to help you make the best selection.

Inside the main store, along with lawn mowers, lawn mower parts, bird baths, lawn ornaments, pottery, gardening tools, hoses, seed, peat moss, fertilizer, insecticides, herbicides, landscapes stone, etc., you will find friendly staff who believe that helping you is the most important job to be done.

At Cox's Plant Farm everyone is in the business of Customer Service and we are "in" 362 days each year. Here there's always someone available who will gladly help you.

Wayne's Solutions to Common Lawn & Garden Problems

For more than 50 years, Wayne Cox was known for growing fine plants and vegetables, and for solving the problems that can arise with them.

PROBLEM #1: The builder took all of the topsoil, leaving you with a nice looking lawn that will not grow anything. You may have tried to plant grass, and only got a lot of weeds and thin grass as a result. That is because the soil packs down as hard as concrete. The grasses' roots cannot penetrate the hard soil.

SOLUTION: We have a product that we have used on our field for 5 years. It really works, breaking the soil compaction. One inch of rain will make it go 1 ft. deep in the soil. For trees and plants with longer roots 4 inches of rain will loosen the soil 4 ft. deep. The product is called LIL' PERK- Soil Conditioner. LIL' PERK comes in an 8oz. Bottle, and can be mix 1 oz. per 4 gal. of water for coverage of 5,000 sq. ft. An 8 oz. Bottle will cover 40,000 sq. ft. (approx. 1 acre). Use LIL' PERK twice during the first year, once in spring and again in the fall. After that apply LIL' PERK only one time a season to keep soil loose. LIL' PERK can also be used with a fertilizer for food for the plants. Plants are like your car, the car needs gas or will not keep going. Your plants need nourishment too. LIL' PERK can be used on gardens, flowerbeds, trees and shrubs. Without this product your plant's roots will stay close to the surface, because they can't get down through the hard pan soil. LIL' PERK will loosen the soil allowing for deeper root penetration. A deeper root system can more easily draw up moisture, yielding better results. In dry weather, your plants will fail without moisture. We also have an ORTHO PROBLEM SOLVER BOOK to help you with the proper chemicals to use.

PROBLEM #2: Rabbits and deer think you are growing a garden, trees and roses only for them to feed on. Most repellents work by leaving a bad taste on the leaves. This only discourages the animals AFTER they have destroyed the plant.

SOLUTION: Finally, we have a product that will drive away the animals without sacrificing your plants. Liquid Fence Animal Repellent works by a smell. They think your plants are not edible vegetation, and they go to another area, leaving your plants intact. Liquid Fence works by training the animals to avoid your plants and remains effective through the colder months as well. With normal rainfall amounts, Liquid Fence will last a year. If we have an extreme amount of rain, you will need to put on a second application. We have a ready to use bottle or a concentrate for larger areas. YES. "it really does work!" GUARANTEED. You must be 100% satisfied with Liquid Fence or we will refund your purchase price. This product is environmentally safe. Liquid Fence uses non-toxic ingredients and is biodegradable. It is safe to use near people and pets when used as directed.

PROBLEM #3: Grub worms, moles, Japanese beetles, all are related to cause a lot of grief. This is how the cycle works: Starting in the spring, the grub worms will come up close to the surface, eating roots off the grass. Then the moles go after the grub worms, tearing up your grass even more. This damaging process goes on until about late June into July, when the grub worms hatch into hungry Japanese beetles. The mature beetles fly everywhere looking for large amounts of something good to eat, devouring their favorite plants and trees regardless of who's property the plants may be on. After that, they breed and dive down on the closest nice place to lay their eggs, approximately 25 or more per beetle. In September and October, the grubs hatch out and look for food (any grass roots you have left) to get ready for winter so they can come back up and greet you in the spring. If we do nothing, they will be soon be so thick there will be nothing left.

SOLUTION: The best we can do, as there is no complete way to get rid of the problem, is to reduce these pests to help have less of a problem. April and May: This is the best time for lawn grub killer. Use after a rain, when the hungry grubs are close to the surface. The rainwater will activate the grub killer. Less grubs will mean less moles chasing after the grubs. Late June, July, & first part of August: After the grubs change to Japanese beetles, use spray on plants they like to eat. It helps, but they still eat your plants. Beetle traps will catch them on days the sun shines. However, the trap must be located away from plants you want to save. beetle traps have a sex lure on it and the beetles go crazy to get in the trap. Remember each beetle can lay up to 25 eggs. If the trap gets full very quick it will hold over 1,000 beetles. Multiply that number by the amount of eggs they lay, and you could prevent 25,000 beetles a day when they are in full flight over your property. If the trap draws in beetles from surrounding areas, you are reducing the problem in a positive way.

PROBLEM #4: Plant a tree in hard clay soil and the tree may live if you have enough rain, or water it.

SOLUTION: Things to help make a tree grow better, dig a square hole, not a round hole. The roots will grow in circles in a round hole. With a square hole, the roots come to corner and go straight out the hole. LIL' PERK will loosen the soil for better root penetration and SUPERthrive will get it going. When planting, also use with fertilizer for better growth. What the numbers on fertilizer mean: as the number goes higher, the ingredient gets stronger. The first number is for NITROGEN, aids in the growth of green plants. The second number is for PHOSPHATE, which yields better flowers and blooming plants. The third number is for POTASH, which gives better root growth.

PROBLEM #5: Moles and Ground Squirrels tearing up your yard or garden.

SOLUTION: Put some castor beans in the mole run. When the mole travels through the tunnel and finds a seed and eats it, he is done. The bean is very deadly. For ground squirrels, put the castor beans out where they will steal them. The squirrels will take the beans back to their dens and eat them. Bye, bye, squirrels.

PROBLEM #6: Ground needs to loosen up.

SOLUTION: Buckwheat planted in June will mature by fall. It helps bees when in flower, and loosens soil very well.

PROBLEM #7: Need a winter cover crop for your garden.

SOLUTION: Use Crimson-Clover All Mix. Planted in September or early October, it grows all winter. In the spring, chop it up with a lawn mower and till when you get ready to plant the garden.

PROBLEM #8: Fall Mums won't come back in the spring.

SOLUTION: After all green is gone in late fall, cut tops off at ground level. When ground freezes solid, pile approx. 1 ft. tall pile of straw over roots. Remove straw in late March. Mums get in trouble when it warms up in January or February. They think spring is here and start to grow, then it gets cold again and kills the new growth.

PROBLEM #9: Birds or cutworms cutting off plants after you put in the garden.

SOLUTION: For cutworms on tomatoes, put 2 small wooden matchsticks next to the stem, when the cutworm wraps around the stem, the wood is too hard to cut off. Birds, attracted to the bright green pepper and tomato plants, fly down and cut them off. If you can camouflage the plants for a few days, the birds get used to them and leave them alone. Use tall weeds or a tree branch with leaves so the birds can't see the new plants you've just planted. The weeds won't grow.

Use Superthrive and Osmocote when planting for the fastest start.

Sweet Potatoes

SWEET POTATO PLANTS

Beauregard – This new sweet potato from Louisiana is out-yielding standard varieties across the board. Most important, for our northern customers, it produces big sweet potatoes in 90 days, over 5 weeks earlier than any other variety. Extremely productive, with rose skin and deep orange flesh, Fusarium wilt resistant. Plant after frost danger up to 4th July, will mature by Oct. 4th

We Raise Our Own Bedding Plants

ANNUAL BEDDING PLANTS

We grow and handle a very large selection of annual bedding plants and summer flowering potted plants. Whether your planting is in the sun, shade or a combination of both, we can help you select the right plant material.

As a general rule, bedding plants should not be planted until about May 10th in this area; however, Petunias, Pansies, Snapdragons and many perennial plants can be planted two to three weeks earlier.

GROW YOUR OWN VEGETABLES

Why not have Mother Nature help you lower your high grocery bill?

Grow your own vegetables in your spare time. Use your backyard to save lots of money and enjoy the very fresh flavor you can't buy at the store.

For example – the average yield of some vegetables:

1/4 lb of GREEN BEAN SEED
will produce approximately 10 lbs.
of green beans.

Four TOMATO PLANTS
will produce an average of 20 lbs
of tomatoes per plant.

Four CABBAGE PLANTS
will produce an average 5 lb.
cabbage head per plant.

Four PEPPER PLANTS
will produce an average of 15 lbs. of peppers.

10 lbs. of SEED POTATOES
will yield up to 100 lbs. of potatoes.

12 SWEET POTATO PLANTS
will yield approximately 50 lbs. of sweet potatoes.

1 bundle of SWEET ONIONS
(approximately 30 plants) will yield approximately 15 lbs. of onions.

1 dip of BEET SEED
will yield approximately 40 lbs. of beets.

1/4 lb. of CORN SEED
will yield approximately 125 ears of corn.

1 dip of RADISH SEEDS
will yield approximately 25 lbs. of radishes.

1 dip of LETTUCE SEEDS
will yield approximately 10 lbs. of lettuce.

Now, this is just an average yield, you could get more or less, depending on weather conditions. Fertilizer will also help make your plants grow better and give you a better yield. The more you plant the more you will get in return. Just remember that you will also have to combat Mother Nature's pest problems by spraying your plants!

While we were raising our seven children and trying to make ends meet, having a large garden was a big help by canning and freezing the vegetables we had raised ourselves!! Thank you for so many great years...

Problem: Tomato Early Blight

Approximately in the mid 1980's we had a blight hit the corn crop. It also hit the tomatoes and has been a problem ever since. Once the blight gets into the soil, the rain splashes it back up to the bottom leaves. It also travels as a spore which settles on dew drops and evaporates to the rain clouds, which can travel up to thirty miles and come down as rain on your garden... and now you have the blight.

There are over 300 kinds of tomatoes that are non-resistant to the blight. We had been spraying a fungicide which cost $17.00 for 9 ounces. We have found that Epsom Salts has the same ingredients as the fungicide. We sell the Epsom Salts in a 1 lb. pkg for $1.98. We had very good results last year from using the Epsom Salts. There was no blight in our garden all the way to frost!

HOW TO USE EPSOM SALTS:

Put 1 tablespoon in the bottom of the hole and mix in the soil. Place the tomato plant in the hole and cover the hole. Then mix 1 tablespoon of Epsom Salts to a gallon of water and water the plant in.

If later you see any blight signs on bottom leaves, then mix 2-1/2 Tablespoons per gallon of water and spray plants until well covered. Also spread some on the ground under the plants (1 or 2 tablespoons will be enough). We have had several people tell us it worked for them!

SEED POTATO VARIETIES

From our growing experience, use 6-24-24 fertilizer, half the amount of seed potatoes. Put in row before planting and mix into soil. This has always doubled our yield. Also, water is very important. They need 1 inch per week from blooming time until harvest.

Sold by the 50 lb. bag or by the lb. Market Prices

POTATO GRADE REQUIREMENTS

The Blue Tag is issued on lots that have met all field and storage inspection requirements as well as standards higher than the US No. 1 Seed Grade size, condition and physical defects.

A GROWER'S TIP

For the effort you will put in, you will want your trees to grow, therefore water with approximately one (1) bucket per week for the first year, unless there is plenty of rain.

We reserve the right to inspect defective trees.

PROBLEM: NEED A GREEN THUMB?

We want our customer to get the best results possible from their flowers, perennials, vegetables, foliage plants and tree & shrubs.

Answer: FOR A VERY SMALL EXPENSE, YOU CAN GET SUPER RESULTS FROM YOUR PLANTS BY GIVING THEM SUPERthrive ALONG WITH A GOOD FERTILIZER PROGRAM.

For Plants: Simply mix one teaspoon per 1 gallon water, (For Trees: Use one teaspoon per gallon water) to start out with. After getting plants started use 1/2 teaspoon per gallon when watering through the season. For better lawns, add SUPERthrive when feeding and watering.

Be nice to them and they will give you larger flowers, larger vegetables, more and vigorous growth than you have ever had before. Look in our greenhouses and see the healthy results we get by using SUPERthrive on everything.

Thank you to our plant-loving customers!

Plants Are Clean Air Machines

Scientists have found that plants have very special capabilities – they can remove pollutants from the air in our homes and factories.

Some of the best houseplants for helping provide clean air are pothos, spider plants, peace lilies, and dracaenas. We have many varieties of houseplants to enhance your space at home or at work.
